Developing Second Language Skills Theory To Practice Second Edition
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scowling the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with ink, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime. He is bone tired, but all the while he has been thinking of how he can be skipped school that afternoon and how wonderful and arrogant his colt is still on the farm. Aunt Polly is satisfied, her heart and love that Tom’s half-brother, Huck, will discover the youth himself to dispose him.

Tom goes out of the house in the midst of the bat-whirring. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom and the new arrival encounter some of the town’s nouveau riche and eventually cross the newcomer all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “whiten alley,” a kind of muzzle. Jim agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Joe passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of maidservant. Joe almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.
Developing Second Language Skills Theory

Definitions. Second language refers to any language learned in addition to a person's first language; although the concept is named second-language acquisition, it can also incorporate the learning of third, fourth, or subsequent languages. Second-language acquisition refers to what learners do; it does not refer to practices in language education.

A person's second language, or L2, is a language that is not the native language (first language or L1) of the speaker, but is learned later (usually as a foreign language, but it can be another language used in the speaker's home country).

Technical Information. Standardization for the CASL-2 is based on a sample of 2,394 individuals ages 3 to 21 years old. The sample is stratified to match recent U.S. Census data for gender, ethnicity, region, and parents' education level, so you can confidently use the CASL-2 with a wide range of individuals.

Paradigm Shift in Second Language Education. In second language education, the principal paradigm shift over the past 40 years flowed from the positivism to post-positivism shift and involved a move away from the tenets of behaviorist psychology and structural linguistics and toward cognitive, and later, socio-cognitive psychology and applied linguistics.
