Finding John Rae
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his bands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly looks, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime, and his Aunt Polly tells him about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells him that he must be skipped school that afternoon and write an essay on the bravery of John Henry. Tom ponders how he can pass the exam. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom and the new arrival emerged from the back door, Tom has sworn the ghost himself to disguise his appearance by whistling. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom meets a peddler, overpowered and arrogant. Tom and the new arrival encounter the peddler's horse, which is out of control. Tom manages to calm the horse and eventually chases the newcomer all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. His friends try, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white ally," a kind of money. Aunt Polly agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labor.

Tom comes home at supper. He tells how he has been for a week at the whittling school that afternoon and how he has been skipping school that morning and how he has been whittling in a hollow log behind the house. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom and the new arrival enter the room. Tom is crestfallen and aggrieved at the newcomer. Tom goes out of the house and later returns, bearing a stick, resuming the battle. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom and the new arrival meet Huckleberry Finn. They are quickly won over by the young man's charm and eventually choose the newcomer as the boy of the house.
